

Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner

To:	The Sussex Police & Crime Panel.
From:	The Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner.
Subject:	The role of the Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner in holding Sussex Police to account for improving the response provided to victims of rape and serious sexual offences.
Date:	27 September 2024.
Recommendation:	That the Sussex Police & Crime Panel note the report.

1.0 Introduction

- 1.1 This report sets out the role of the Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner (PCC) in holding Sussex Police to account for improving the response and outcomes provided for victims of rape and serious sexual offences (RASSO).
- 1.2 The report summarises the work undertaken by Sussex Police and partners to increase the number of recorded offences, volume of cases charged and the, subsequent, number of referrals made to the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS), alongside the measures used by the PCC to hold the Chief Constable to account for performance in this area.
- 1.3 Further information is also included in the report about the level of investment that has been made by the PCC and Sussex Police to support improved conviction rates and the funding that has been made available to local support services to help victims.

2.0 Scale, threat and challenges of rape and serious sexual offences

- 2.1 Rape and serious sexual offences are devastating crimes which can have a long-lasting and detrimental personal impact on individuals.
- 2.2 These crimes are committed primarily by men against women and girls but can also be perpetrated against men and boys. They occur in all communities and involve offenders and victims with different protected characteristics, from a range of socio-economic backgrounds.
- 2.3 The victims of RASSO are all too often targeted by offenders because of one or more protected characteristics or other form of vulnerability. These factors may provide ease of access or opportunity for the offender, who may also hope that a vulnerable victim will be less likely to report the crime, and less likely to be believed if they do.
- 2.4 There is no official definition of RASSO. Instead, this includes the individual offences of rape, sexual assault and sexual activity [comprising a range of different offences] as defined by the Home Office and the crime recording rules for frontline police officers and staff to ensure that all crimes are recorded accurately and consistently. A full list of each of these individual offences can be viewed in Appendix A.

2.5 The following RASSO were recorded by Sussex Police in each of the past three years – 2021/22, 2022/23 and 2023/24 – as follows:

Offence	2021/22	2022/23	2023/24
Rape	1,837	1,793	1,953
Other serious sexual offences	2,503	2,678	2,596
All RASSO	4,340	4,471	4,549

2.6 There have been year-on-year increases in the total number of RASSO offences recorded in Sussex. This increased by +131 offences [+3%] between 2021/22 and 2022/23 and +78 offences [+2%] between 2022/23 and 2023/24. There were also increases in the number of rape offences [+116 offences and +6%] and other serious sexual offences [+93 offences and +4%] between 2021/22 and 2023/24. These increases are reflective of the increased reporting which has been demonstrated for all RASSO offences nationally across the same period.

2.7 Last year, all police forces in England and Wales signed up to Operation Soteria – a transformational change programme to tackle rape and serious sexual offences – following an initial pilot with a four pathfinder forces and five expansion forces. Further information about Operation Soteria can be viewed in section 5.0 Sussex Police response to rape and serious sexual offences.

3.0 Role of the Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner

3.1 The PCC has sought to make additional funding and resources available to the Chief Constable to increase the efficiency and effectiveness of the Sussex Police response to RASSO through increases to the police precept.

3.2 Now that this investment has been realised, the PCC will hold the Chief Constable to account for its delivery. This will include an expectation that Sussex Police demonstrate improved conviction rates for victims of rape and serious sexual offences.

3.3 It is a statutory responsibility for the PCC to hold the Chief Constable to account for delivering efficient and effective policing in Sussex that is responsive to the needs of the public. The PCC has continued to use her monthly webcast Performance & Accountability Meetings (PAMs) to provide oversight and to challenge the Chief Constable about the Sussex Police response to victims and improving the conviction rates for RASSO.

3.4 Operation Soteria was raised most recently as a theme at the PAM on 13 September 2024 when the HMICFRS report around the progress made to introduce a national operating model for rape and other serious sexual offences investigations was discussed.

3.5 This area of policing was also raised at the PAMs on 19 January 2024 [Operation Soteria Bluestone] and 21 July 2023 [Domestic abuse – including Operation Soteria] previously. Each of these sessions is archived and can be viewed on the PCC's website through the following link:

www.sussex-pcc.gov.uk/get-involved/webcasting/

- 3.6 The PCC has continued to chair the Sussex Criminal Justice Board (SCJB) which includes a standing agenda item to consider the progress made against Operation Soteria – the transformational change programme to tackle rape and serious sexual offences in England and Wales – and the joint plan that exists locally between Sussex Police and the Crown Prosecution Service (CPS). The SCJB took place most recently on 31 July 2024 where the police and partner response to RASSO was discussed.
- 3.7 Sussex Police has sought to make several changes to working practices to improve working relationships between the Force and the CPS, both at a tactical and operational level. This has included establishing a South East regional RASSO Joint Operational Improvement Meeting (JOIM); collaboratively redesigning and implementing an early advice with purpose scheme, and proactively sharing police officer shift patterns, schedules and contact details with the CPS to improve communication channels and reduce the creation of unnecessary action plans, alongside the introduction of informal coffee meetings between solicitors and investigators to improve these relationships further still.

4.0 Supporting victims of rape and serious sexual offences

- 4.1 The PCC has a statutory responsibility to commission services for victims of crime in Sussex. This includes determining how best to commission and fund support organisations which help victims of rape and serious sexual offences, and ensure that individuals in Sussex have access to the best and most appropriate support services available, alongside the ongoing management of these contracts.
- 4.2 The PCC recognises the importance of providing an efficient and effective policing response to prevent, tackle and solve these offences because of the detrimental personal impact these offences can have on individuals and the mental and physical scars that are created through this offending behaviour.
- 4.3 The Office of the Sussex Police & Crime Commissioner (OSPCC) has commissioned 11 different organisations to provide 25 separate support services for victims of rape, serious sexual offences and sexual abuse across Sussex during 2024/25. This equates to commissioned services to the value of £1,642,250 across the financial year, with the total grant value of these commissioned services recognised to be £4,855,820 over the duration of the contracts.
- 4.4 The other grants are commissioned to provide a wide range of additional support including Independent Sexual Violence Advisors (ISVAs); counselling services; specialist advice and guidance; support provisions for children and young people; outreach and group support for victims of sexual violence and abuse; peer support and recovery groups, and training for frontline staff and professionals.
- 4.5 The main contract to provide these services in Sussex is delivered by Survivors' Network who were awarded a five-year contract in April 2021 which is set to run until March 2026, with an option to extend this contract by up to a further two years.

- 4.6 Survivors' Network are contracted to provide a Pan-Sussex service of specialist advice, support and counselling for victims of rape, serious sexual offences and sexual abuse. The OSPCC is responsible for leading on this contract which is co-commissioned with partners at from Brighton & Hove City Council, East Sussex County Council and West Sussex County Council.
- 4.7 A full list of each of the organisations that have received funding from the OSPCC to support victims of RASSO in 2024/25 can be viewed in Appendix B.

5.0 Sussex Police response to rape and serious sexual offences

- 5.1 In July 2023, the [previous] Home Secretary announced that all 43 police forces in England and Wales had signed up to Operation Soteria – a transformational change programme to tackle rape and serious sexual offences.
- 5.2 Sussex Police has sought to embed the National Operating Model (NOM) developed by the programme which is underpinned by a six-pillar framework to assist all police forces to deliver the transformational change required to improve the response to rape and serious sexual offences.
- 5.3 The aims of Operation Soteria are to deliver the following activity:
- ✓ Suspect-focused investigations.
 - ✓ Disruption of repeat suspects.
 - ✓ A procedural justice approach to engaging with victims.
 - ✓ Learning, development and wellbeing of officers.
 - ✓ Strategic use of police data.
 - ✓ Digital forensics.
- 5.4 It was highlighted that the previous working practices and investigative approaches used in forces across England and Wales did not hold enough offenders accountable for their actions nor were enough criminal justice outcomes delivered for victims. The NOM seeks to provide all forces with the materials required to improve local policing responses and introduce positive changes to investigative practices that are more evidence-based.
- 5.5 In response to this, the Force has established governance structures that are aligned to the six pillars, with lead officers [selected for their experience and strategic expertise] responsible for the delivery of each of these. This is further supported by Forcewide oversight and scrutiny through existing operational and strategic boards.
- 5.6 Sussex Police has adapted the policies, practices and procedures used for rape and serious sexual offence (RASSO) investigations to ensure that these are victim-centred, suspect-focused and context-led [i.e. there is no standard approach to investigative actions]. Alongside this, new suspect interview plans and intelligence development plans have been developed for investigators that focus on bad character material and the identification of offending behaviours/negative attitudes towards women by suspects respectively.

- 5.7 Revised guidance has been issued to investigators about the appropriate use of language when providing updates about investigations, which is further supported by new letter templates created for victims which provide a clear explanation regarding why the police may have been unable to reach the evidential threshold required to charge a suspect and the options available to them should an appeal be requested.
- 5.8 In addition, there is an ongoing requirement for Sussex Police to undertake continuous self-assessments regarding the local delivery of the NOM, with regular feedback provided by the Joint Soteria Unit. It was also emphasised that the significant amount of material required to deliver these changes means that the Force will continue to deliver and embed the NOM further still across 2024.
- 5.9 Sussex Police is currently reviewing and restructuring its Public Protection Unit to ensure that dedicated specialist officers are available to investigate RASSOs, in line with the preferred operating model highlighted by Operation Soteria. At present, officers have a blended approach in Sussex and currently investigate all public protection offences that are handled by the unit. It is anticipated that the Force will be able to start the restructuring process in January 2025, once the necessary review has been completed.
- 5.10 It is also worth emphasising that Sussex Police, in partnership with the National Health Service (NHS), co-commissions the two sexual assault referral centres (SARCs) across Sussex [Adult SARC in Crawley and Child SARC in Brighton]. These are specialised facilities designed to provide immediate medical, practical, and emotional support to victims who have recently experienced rape or sexual assault, regardless of whether the victim chooses to report the incident to the police.

6.0 Project Fides

- 6.1 In 2023/24, the PCC successfully secured £813,449 of extra funding from the Home Office through Round 5 of the Safer Streets Fund to provide interventions aimed at reducing neighbourhood crime [domestic burglary, robbery, theft from person and vehicle crime], tackling anti-social behaviour and reducing violence against women and girls (VAWG) in public spaces. This funding was split over two years as follows: £461,945.85 in 2023/24 and £351,503 in 2024/25.
- 6.2 The PCC used some of this funding, alongside match funding from the OSPCC, to establish a ground-breaking unit – called Project Fides – to support victims of rape and sexual assault during police investigations and prosecutions, whilst enabling investigators to focus on ongoing investigations [N.B. In ancient Roman religion, Fides was recognised to be the goddess of trust and faithfulness].
- 6.3 Project Fides has included investment in 8 new victim co-ordinator posts to engage with and act as the single point of contact for female victims of rape in a public place. These individuals have sought to build rapport with victims of these crimes, secure best evidence and to gain a better understanding of the barriers that may have stopped them from supporting a prosecution previously, including specific support for almost 130 cases during 2023/24.

6.4 The victim co-ordinators also contacted nearly 250 victims across the year who had previously disengaged from the criminal justice system process and proactively sought to ensure that the right support services have been offered to meet the needs of the victims, alongside the provision of regular updates as the investigations progress.

7.0 Improvements to solved rates for rape and serious sexual offences

7.1 As a result of the collection of improvement activities listed above, Sussex Police has made significant improvements to the quality of its RASSO investigations which is contributing towards increases in recorded crime, greater volumes of cases charged and successful disposals, and more referrals made [by the police] to the CPS.

7.2 It is worth emphasising that the term solved is used by the police service when a suspect is charged with an offence(s), alongside the term conviction which is used when a suspect is given a criminal justice outcome.

7.3 Rape – There was a 180% increase in the volume of rape cases charged between 30 September 2022 and 30 June 2024, with charges brought for 123 cases [6.7%] compared to 44 charges [3.5%] previously – this equated to an additional 79 charges. The number of referrals made to the CPS also increased by 25% from 170 referrals across the rolling year period to 30 September 2022 to 213 referrals across the rolling year period to 30 June 2024 [+43 referrals].

7.4 Serious Sexual Offences – There was a 55% increase in the volume of serious sexual offence cases charged between 30 September 2022 and 30 June 2024, with charges brought for 177 cases [6.9%] compared to 114 charges [5.7%] previously – this equated to an additional 63 charges. The volume of successful disposals also increased by 46% across the same period – from 140 disposals to 205 disposals [+65 disposals], alongside a 30% increase in the number of referrals made to the CPS which increased from 176 referrals to 229 referrals [+53 referrals] across the rolling year period to 30 June 2024.

7.5 RASSO – There was a 90% increase in the volume of RASSO cases charged between 30 September 2022 and 30 June 2024, with charges brought for 300 cases [6.8%] compared to 158 charges [4.8%] previously – this equated to an additional 142 charges. The volume of successful disposals also increased by 78% across the same period – from 184 disposals to 327 disposals [+143 disposals], alongside a 28% increase in the number of referrals made to the CPS which increased from 346 referrals to 442 referrals [+96 referrals] across the same rolling year period.

7.6 It is also acknowledged that there has been a 37% increase in the volume of victim withdrawals for all rape and serious sexual offences across the same period which means that not all RASSO victims are currently supporting pre-charge investigations. Sussex Police has also seen a 44% increase in the average number of days taken to charge an offender which is set to continue in the short-term as the Force seeks to finalise its outstanding investigations and reduce the backlogs which have been created because of increased reporting.

- 7.7 Sussex Police have proactively undertaken a small number of telephone interview surveys with victims of rape and serious sexual offences each month since February 2022. The Force is also recognised by the Home Office to be one of only a small number of police force areas in England and Wales who conduct these surveys with victims of these crimes as a matter of routine.
- 7.8 Of the 126 victim surveys completed between February 2022 and June 2023, 61% of victims [77] were satisfied to some extent with the whole experience, 24% of victims were dissatisfied [30] and 15% of victims were neither satisfied nor dissatisfied with the whole experience [19]. A further 59% of victims [74] also agreed that they had confidence in Sussex Police, with 24% of victims [30] disagreeing and a further 18% of victims [22] neither agreeing nor disagreeing.
- 7.9 It is recognised that it is difficult to compare the satisfaction rates between different types of offences because the impact and experience of victims can vary so considerably. It is also worth emphasising that whilst the victim satisfaction rates reported for other surveys is higher, including domestic abuse at circa. 80%, the satisfaction rates recorded for RASSO compare favourably to these and are not recognised to represent an outlier.
- 7.10 Sussex Police will continue to monitor victim satisfaction and confidence levels across a range of different crime types to understand better where improvements in the policing response are required.
- 7.11 Further information about the performance of Sussex Police for all rape and serious sexual offences can be viewed in Appendix C.
